

TABLE OF CONTENTS

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS	1
CONCLUSIONS	2
THE DIALOGUE
Conference Agenda	7
Session Summaries	10
CONFERENCE MEDIA:
The Nobel Women's Initiative Press Release	36
MEDIA COVERAGE:
Nobel winners decry lack of women's rights in Middle East (The Irish Independent)	38
Laureates head gender campaign (Irish Examiner)	39
Nobel women meet to build a world of peace, justice and equality (The Irish Times)	40
OPENDEMOCRACY'S CONFERENCE COVERAGE:
The meaning of peace in the 21st century, by Shirin Ebadi	42
Peacework: Lessons we have failed to learn, by Isabel Hilton	43
A Northern Ireland lesson, by Anne Carr	44
Nothing is impossible, the difficult takes longer, by Nadwa Sarandah	46
Reflections on the NWI conference, by Maggie Baxter	48
Excerpts from openDemocracy's blog diaries	51
APPENDICES
Appendix A: Conference Participant List	56
Appendix B: The Nobel Women's Initiative Closing Statement	61
Appendix C: In Opposition to the Iraq Oil Law	63
Appendix D: Reflections on the Nobel Women's Initiative's First International Conference: "Women Redefining Peace in the Middle East and Beyond," by Rebecca Barlow	64
Selected Conference Documents Reprinted:
Appendix E: Gender Dynamics of Violence and Conflicts: The Middle East in Global Context, by Valentine Moghadam	68
Appendix F: Religious Fundamentalisms & Women's Rights, by Farida Shaheed	74
Appendix G: Engendering Peace Processes, by Igballe Rogova	77
Appendix H: Action Needed to Gain Stronger Gender Equality Architecture, Center for Women's Global Leadership	80
Appendix I: United Nations Reform: How to Strengthen Gender Architecture?, United Nations Non-governmental Liaison Service	81
Appendix J: The Relevance of Gender for Eliminating Weapons of Mass Destruction, by Carol Cohn, with Felicity Hill and Sara Ruddick	84
Appendix K: Briefing: Conditions for a Nuclear Free Middle East, Greenpeace	99
Appendix L: What the International Community Needs to be Doing Differently, by Shirin Ershadi	103
Appendix M: Instructions to access conference photographer Judy Rand's conference photos	106
CLIMATE OF HOPE, DVD DOCUMENTARY (PROVIDED BY FELICITY HILL)

ACKNOWLEDGMENTS

We would like to thank the following supporters of the Nobel Women's Initiative (NWI). Without their generous support, encouragement and collaboration, our first conference would not have been possible.

- » Ann Down
- » The Fisher Fund at Tides Foundation
- » The Global Fund for Women
- » Irish Aid
- » Norwegian Ministry of Foreign Affairs
- » The Planethood Foundation
- » Rockefeller Family & Associates
- » Swiss Ministry of Foreign Affairs
- » University of Houston Graduate College of Social Work
- » and all of the Nobel Peace Prize Laureates of the NWI: Shirin Ebadi, Wangari Maathai, Rigoberta Menchú Tum, Betty Williams and Mairead Corrigan Maguire, and Jody Williams

We would also like to thank our working group members who since early 2006 have helped us shape and define the Nobel Women's Initiative. Only with their creativity and commitment have we been able to transform our vision of NWI into the reality it is today. They are Brene Brown, Shahla Haeri, Avon Mattison, Nayereh Tohidi and Lisa VeneKlasen, as well as board members Nancy Ingram and Joanna Kerr.

We would further like to thank our dedicated interpreters and documentation team, who worked long hours to ensure that all of us were able to fully engage in the discussions and that our message reached beyond Galway after the conference closed. The efforts of several conference participants allowed openDemocracy.net to report on the conference proceedings - sharing blogs, podcasts and articles about what took place in Galway with a global audience. Our rapporteurs also prepared the session summaries you will find later in this report, and we thank them for their excellent note-taking! A special thanks goes to Peg Norman, Judy Rand and Gerry Rogers, who captured all the joys of our first conference on film, providing us images we will treasure for years to come. In addition, we would like to acknowledge the following artists and groups who generously shared their artwork with us: Helene Caux, IRIN (Integrated Regional Information Networks), 6+ Women's Art Collective and 1000 Peacewomen Around the Globe.

As many of you remarked during the event, the NWI staff did an incredible job getting us to Galway and orchestrating a seamless event. We would like to thank NWI Director Liz Bernstein and board member Joanna Kerr for their leadership and vision, and Program Associate Demetri Lopez and the indomitable students from the University of Houston Graduate College of Social Work - Melanie Fisk, Shannon Fyfe, Jessie Hayman, Saralyn McIver and Nancy Wade Norwood - for their extraordinary commitment to making the conference a success. We would also like to thank our team of local volunteers in Galway, particularly Aletta Raju and Debra Williams.

Finally, we thank all of our participants for joining us! You left work, projects and families to join us and spent three days educating, challenging and inspiring us. We thank you for sharing your experiences, your visions and your ideas for building a more secure, just planet together.

Participants of "The Nobel Women's Initiative's First International Conference: Women Redefining Peace in the Middle East and Beyond"